

U.S.S. CONTINUUM NCC - 71821 PROMOTION SYSTEM

ARTICLE I – Earning Promotions

Promotion in the U.S.S. Continuum is in recognition of two important achievements: 1) active participation in the organization and 2) an acknowledgment that a member lives up to the ideals of Star Trek.

All members must maintain their appropriate memberships to be eligible for promotion:

- For Officer members, both STARFLEET and U.S.S. Continuum memberships.
- For Enlisted members, U.S.S. Continuum membership.

If said memberships are not maintained, the member will be deemed ineligible to advance in rank.

Promotions are awarded by a simple majority vote of the Command Staff. The CS will conduct an annual performance review for each crewmember, noting:

- the length of time at his/her current rank
- all individual, department, ship, region, and FLEET-wide activities participated in
- the level at which he/she participated in those activities
- the quality of the work done and/or effort used
- any recommendations for promotion made by other crewmembers

Because there are a limited number of ranks available, most promotions take anywhere from six months (for lower ranks) to a few years (for higher ones) filled with steady, active participation in individual, department, ship, region, and FLEET-wide activities. Such activities are not limited to the member's own department, ship, or region. When a CS officer is not present for any activity, it is the member's responsibility to contact the CS, informing them of what they participated in and how they participated.

A refusal to grant a promotion should not be seen as a reflection upon the crewmember's character or as a lack of appreciation the U.S.S. Continuum has for its members. However, if a crewmember feels overlooked in being promoted, he/she should feel free to discuss the matter with the CS. The CS reserves the right to re-evaluate a performance review.

Finally, crewmembers are encouraged to recommend to the CS their fellow shipmates for promotion upon noticing them doing outstanding work for any individual, department, ship, region, or FLEET activity.

ARTICLE II – Activities

Below is a list of approved activities crewmembers can participate in to earn promotions. The CS may approve others at their own discretion.

All activities are not considered equal. The CS can choose to place greater emphasis on activities that will better serve the needs of the membership as circumstances warrant. For example, if the ship needs more members, activities such as individual recruiting, participation in recruiting events, and doing other public relations will have greater impact on promotions than other types of activities. Members are encouraged to regularly discuss with the CS as to where needs may be prioritized.

Typically, the higher the target group (in the order of department, ship, region, and FLEET), the higher the impact the activity will have on promotions.

ARTICLE IV – Regarding Flag Promotions

As per STARFLEET guidelines, the U.S.S. Continuum may not promote any Officer above the rank of grade O-5. These flag promotions can only be granted by the Regional Coordinator (for O-6) or the STARFLEET Executive Committee (for O-7 and above). View the STARFLEET Membership Handbook, Section 02:06, or visit the STARFLEET website (www.sfi.org) for more information (see “Promotions,” currently under the “News” section, for the criteria and to submit nominations).

Any STARFLEET member, regardless of the position(s) he/she holds or has held, may be eligible for flag promotions. Any STARFLEET member, even if they are not a part of the CS, may recommend Officers
